D.C. Agencies and Prime Contractors Can Now Enjoy Benefits of Yellow House's Systems Integration Solutions

Company Provides Rapid and Flexible Integration Services Including Software Engineering; Architecture Planning and Design; and Systems Development

December 6, 2005, Washington DC—Yellow House Associates, LLC, provider of enterprise data integration, information availability and sharing among and between government agencies, announced today that it has been approved and registered for the Local, Small, and Disadvantaged Business Enterprise (LSDBE) Program by the District of Columbia Local Business Opportunity Commission (LBOC).

Since 2001 Yellow House Associates has helped the Washington D.C. Metropolitan Police Department (MPD) increase efficiencies through data sharing technologies and has received the LSDBE certification as a small and local business enterprise and provider of business services (computer software).

“The LSDBE status is a tremendous asset for Yellow House Associates,” Michael Schader, CEO, Yellow House Associates. “We are excited about the prospect of being able to provide additional solutions to the myriad of D.C. Government agencies, departments and programs that require our systems integration services.”

Yellow House Associates helps government agencies and other organizations achieve their missions more effectively with the use of state-of-the-art business processes and technologies. The company's technology expertise combined with its proven development approach, fosters enhanced interoperability and collaboration and optimizes operational efficiency.

The LBOC serves as the certification vehicle for the Office of Local Business Development (OLBD). The OLBD's mission is to foster economic growth and the development of Local, Small, and Disadvantaged Business Enterprises. The OLBD works with the Office of Contracting and Procurement to set LSDBE goals, identify contracts for set asides and bid preferences, and monitor LSDBE goal attainment.
