Know who you're up against.

You know crime is about people.

Perpetrators.

Accomplices. Victims.

Use our software to tie together your

Department's

incidents, cases,

arrests, and mugshots.

Make your systems work for you.

Make your core data

the centerpiece of a

Daily Crime Briefing.

Look beyond numbers and statistics.

Look at the people behind the crime.

"It's not just the numbers. It's the way people talk about crime and think about crime."

—Washington, D.C. Police Chief Charles Ramsey describes the effect of the Daily Crime Briefing, 6/1/2004

Free your data with our technology.

Map calls in real time. See historical data in perspective. Deploy your force as events unfold. Get the most out of your most valuable resource – your people.

"MPD's Joint Operations Command Center enables real time crime analysis and police deployment to make informed crime-fighting decisions."

—Washington, D.C. Deputy Mayor Margret Kellems, 6/17/2003

See for yourself what's going on.

You want to know what's really happening. Thanks to our new technology, your job just got easier. You don't need to slog through a hundred-page morning report any more. You can get everything you need from a Daily Crime Briefing with our software.

"For 90 minutes each weekday, the force's top commanders and detectives gather to discuss trends and recent incidents in a high-tech, dimly lighted room with large projection screens that display maps and photographs of suspects and crime scenes..."

Identify problem areas. Get everyone thinking analytically.
Turn your Department into a proactive organization.
Make your systems tell you what you need to know.

"...D.C. Police Chief Charles H. Ramsey... said the approach contributed to an 11 percent drop in crime this year compared with last."

—Washington Post, "90 Minutes a Day That Shape Fight To Cut Crime," 6/1/2004

Close more cases.

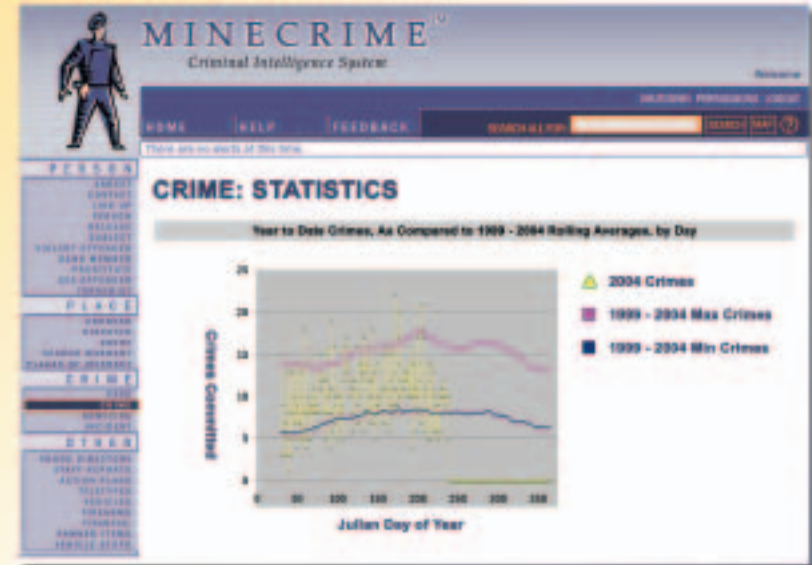

Your detectives need the support of your entire Department. Lack of communication among mobile crime, forensics, youth division, and officers can keep detectives from getting what they need. Let us help. Washington, D.C. used our solution to revolutionize information sharing. Do the same. Give your detectives the best!

“Perhaps the biggest technological innovation has been... a 'Google-like' search engine that allows investigators and other personnel to search, retrieve and link information from various criminal databases. This information can be invaluable in developing leads, identifying suspects and linking crimes.”

—Washington, D.C. Police Chief Charles Ramsey testifies about software developed by Yellow House Associates, 7/10/2002

Fight crime – strategically.

You can see the results. With our system backing you up, strategic policing works! Try it yourself. Spot crime trends before they become epidemics. Develop sophisticated crime-fighting strategies. Deploy your officers and measure your success. Prove you can do it in your city, too!

“Overall crime during the first six months of the year was down 12 percent, and violent crime had declined 17 percent... Police officials said they believe that some of the crime drop can be attributed to strategies crafted at daily meetings of commanders.”

—Washington Post, “Killings in D.C. at 20-Year Low Point,” 7/6/2004

Curious about our name? Artist Vincent Van Gogh did some of his best work in his beloved yellow house in Arles, France. His vision was to bring together the best and brightest to inspire each other and create wonderful things. At Yellow House Associates, we approach your technical challenges the same way as Van Gogh.
